

MIPCOM News #4

Thursday October 2009

www.mipcom.com

Galleon and Lenz joins forces

GALLEON Holdings has signed a co-production agreement with Canada's Lenz Entertainment for the production of 26 episodes based on Galleon's online animation property Apollo's Pad.

Apollo's Pad, which has also been sold to the Canadian interactive broadcaster Bite TV, is set in the fictional nightclub populated by characters modelled on different music genres. It started as a series of two-minute online webisodes but, after these transferred successfully to Bite TV this summer, the decision was taken to reinvent the property as a fully formed TV show.

Bite TV president Jeffrey Elliott said: "Our audience has an insatiable appetite for edgy, irreverent humour — and Apollo's Pad delivers. We are very excited to be able to offer our viewers a full half-hour version of the property."

Apollo's Pad: from webisodes to episodes